*Make-up lessons are possible, but they are subject to class size at other times. The make-ups can only be done on days that there are lessons already occurring. In other words, you can double up on another day if you know you are going to miss, or have already missed, but only if there is room in the same class level at one of the other two times. I work very hard at maintaining safe and optimal instructor to student ratios, and I do not want anyone to lose those benefits.

*Lastly, please take note of your child's current class evaluation sheet when signing up for future lessons. If you plan on doing any other lessons, and things change with the level, please let me know as soon as possible. Remember all sign-ups are first come, first serve, and if you have a change, I cannot knock someone else out of their spot. I do my very best to adjust within the first two weeks of a session if your child does not seem to be in the correct level without changing your time, but sometimes there is a need for flexibility.
